

Meg Morgan, MS, CCC-SLP, BCS-CL is a Spanish-English bilingual speech-language pathologist and clinical assistant professor at the University of New Hampshire. She has worked as a bilingual speech-language pathologist in Arizona, Texas, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, and Maine. She serves on ASHA's School Issues Advisory Board and as an executive board member for the New Hampshire Speech-Language Hearing Association. She is a Board Certified Specialist in Child Language.

Meg Morgan, MS, CCC-SLP

Gina England is a Speech/Language Pathologist who has practiced in New Hampshire since 1981. She has worked all along the medical continuum of care including acute care, acute inpatient rehab, outpatient, day treatment, SNF and home health. Her areas of interest and specialty include cognitive rehabilitation, dysphagia, adult acquired apraxia and post-concussion syndrome.

She has been a national presenter on topics concerning cognitive-communication disorders, dysphagia and post-concussion syndrome. She currently serves on the Board of Directors for the Brain Injury Association of New Hampshire and has served as Adjunct Faculty for The University of New Hampshire, Granite State College and Nashua Community College.

In 2011 she began to spread her horizons even further by venturing into private practice and is enjoying the diversity of practice that this affords the speech pathologist. She thoroughly enjoys conducting seminars/workshops on topics relevant to adult and pediatric rehabilitation. In 2016 she expanded her service provision to include the New Hampshire Public School System, servicing students from preschool through high school. She has found that her medical speech pathology background has been a valuable asset in helping to identify the barriers to academic, communication and cognitive development in students of all ages.

After 43 years of clinical practice, she continues to experience the joy in working as a speech and language pathologist in all settings with all ages.

Gina England, MA, CCC-SLP

Noma Anderson is Dean of the College of Nursing and Health Sciences at the University of Vermont. (UVM). Prior to joining UVM, she served as Special Advisor to the University of Tennessee System President on Diversity and Inclusion. She has served as Dean of the College of Health Professions at the University of Tennessee Health Science Center (UTHSC) and Dean of the School of Health Sciences at Florida International University (FIU). Dr. Anderson was also on the faculty and chair of the Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders at Howard University and on the faculty at Hampton University.

She received her B.A. degree from Hampton Institute (VA), her M.S. degree from Emerson College (Boston MA), and her Ph.D. degree from the University of Pittsburgh (PA).

Within the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA), Dr. Anderson was elected to positions of President and Vice President for Academic Affairs. She has also served as Deputy Director of the National Black Association for Speech, Language and Hearing (NBASLH) and Secretary of the Council of Graduate Programs in Communication Sciences and Disorders. She's received a number of awards, including - Honors from the National Student Speech-Language-Hearing Association, ASHA Fellow, ASHA Honors, Harvard University Foundation Medallion for Multicultural Education, and Legacy Laureate Award from the University of Pittsburgh.

Dr. Anderson's professional areas of expertise are in multicultural aspects of communication sciences and disorders, microaggressions, health and educational disparities, language acquisition, and childhood language disorders.

Noma Anderson, Ph.D

ANGELA MANSOLILLO, MA/CCC-SLP, BCS-S, is a Speech-Language Pathologist and Board-Certified Specialist in Swallowing Disorders with more than 30 years of experience. She is a senior Speech-Language Pathologist at Cooley Dickinson Hospital in Northampton, Massachusetts where she provides evaluation and treatment services for adults and children with dysphagia and is involved in program planning and development including quality improvement initiatives, patient education, and clinical policies and protocols. She is also adjunct faculty at Elms College Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders in Chicopee, Massachusetts and in the Department of Communication Disorders at the University of Massachusetts. Over the course of her career, she has worked in a variety of clinical settings with children and adult populations with a career-long focus on feeding and swallowing disorders. Recently, she authored "Let's Eat!: A Clinical Guide to the Management of Complex Pediatric Feeding and Swallowing Disorders". Angela is a recent recipient of the Massachusetts Speech and Hearing Association's Award for Clinical Excellence and is a sought-after speaker for both live and online continuing education courses as she seamlessly blends current research with clinical experience.

ANGELA MANSOLILLO, MA/CCC-SLP, BCS-S

Farwa Husain is an experienced bilingual speech language pathologist, private practice owner of One-on-One Speech Therapy and founder of Gestalt Goodness located in New Jersey. Farwa has presented for the American Speech and Hearing Association (ASHA), National Black Association for Speech Language and Hearing (NBASLH), New Jersey Speech and Hearing Association (NJSHA) as well as other national and international organizations on the topic of gestalt language processing. Farwa was recognized at the 2023 ASHA convention as an “Innovator” in the field of speech language pathology. She was awarded the 2024 Clinician of the Year award at the National Black Association for Speech-Language and Hearing (NBASLH) national convention. She has also been recognized by families in the NJ Family magazine “Top Docs” edition. Farwa is currently serving as President of Morris County Speech and Hearing Association a non-profit organization that provides exceptional continuing education to SLPs and audiologists in New Jersey. Farwa takes a holistic, sensory driven, play based approach to help individuals unlock their optimal level of learning and loves to collaborate as an interdisciplinary team. She is devoted to culturally and linguistically appropriate therapy that celebrates a family’s unique lifestyle and mentors SLPs on supporting gestalt language processors around the world.

Farwa Husain MS, CCC-SLP

